TRENTON SCHOOL DISTRICT
Intervention and Referral Services Team (I&RS)

INTRODUCTION

In accordance with the requirements forth in the New Jersey Administrative Code Title 6A:16-7.1-3 (Intervention and Referral Services), the Trenton School District Board of Education has established an Intervention and Referral Services Team in each of the district's schools.

The Trenton Board of Education recognizes the importance of the Intervention and Referral Services (I&RS) team concept and believes that each building can benefit from a school-based, collaborative, and multidisciplinary, decision making approach.

The standing Intervention and Referral Services Team (I&RS) will serve as a vehicle to develop and design instructional programs through a collaborative problem-solving approach that impacts on the student who is experiencing academic, behavior and/or health issues, or the staff member who has difficulty in addressing students' academic, behavior and/or health issues.

In addition, through a review and assessment procedures of I&RS Teams shall make recommendations to the principal for improving school programs and services.

The I&RS Team within each building will be selected by the building principal and formulated no later than September 15th of each school year.

Team Composition:

This represents the minimum standing unit for the I&RS Team.
(Additional staff can be added as ad hoc members as needed.)

1. The building administrator (Principal or Vice Principal)
2. An instructional staff member (General Education Teacher).
3. One or more representatives from the following: school counselor, school nurse, CST member (school psychologist, learning consultant, social worker), special education teacher, substance awareness coordinator, school social worker, language arts literacy and/or math intervention specialist, speech/language therapist, ESL/bilingual teacher, climate & culture specialist and others as necessary.

Appendix Resources

TRENTON SCHOOL DISTRICT
School Based Resources for Math and Literacy

Classroom Teachers (s):

The classroom teacher is the primary source of information regarding the student and his or her progress academically, socially, emotionally, and behaviorally. He or she is responsible for Tier 1 instruction, differentiation, scaffolding, and preventative interventions. He or she is responsible for communicating with parents/guardians, collaborating with grade level or department colleagues, collaborating with supervisors, support staff, and administrators with an eye on student achievement data at the classroom, school and district levels. At each grade level each department should have a liaison to the building I&RS Team.

Special Education Teacher(s):

Special educators are a valuable resource to the I&RS Team and provide input on alternative instructional strategies and resources that would be appropriate for at-risk students in the general education environment.

BenchmarksLanguage Arts Literacy*DRA (K-5) Instructional Text Level Goals (Fountas and Pinnell)

5	S/T	T	T	T	U	U	U	V	V	V

Each level indicates the instructional level: that is, the level that the student can read with instructional support. The instructional level is the highest level a student can read with 90% accuracy and satisfactory comprehension (Level A-K) or 95% accuracy and satisfactory comprehension (Levels L-Z). The student's instructional independent reading level will be one or two levels lower. The independent level is one at which the student can read without teacher support.

If the student's instructional level matches the indicated level at the particular point in time, the student can be considered to be reading on grade level. If the student's level is higher, then the student can be considered to be reading above grade level.

Scholastic Reading and Math Inventories (SRI & SMI)

These will be administered to help inform instruction and intervention decision-making. When making decisions teachers and administrators will use the following charts to determine program placement.

At grades 3-11, the district also considers NJASK data, marking period grades, and other assessments when making decisions regarding the need for academic intervention. A 4th grade child who is identified for academic intervention in language arts literacy would typically have scores such as these: 3rd gr. NJASK LAL: 190 or below; Guided Reading Level: L or below DRA score: 20 or below.
